WONDERFUL RESULTS OF FIVE MONTHS' WORK BY ENTERPRISING CALIFORNIANS-THE DAY A LEGAL HOLIDAY AND VAST CROWDS

WITNESS THE EXERCISES. IN TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE!

warm sun of a New-York June day, a great crowd and genuine enthusiasm can assure the success of an exhibition, then the Midwinter Fair may be regarded as guaranteed against failure. No such crowd has been seen here since General Grant returned from China. Only a week before the neaviest rain of the season occurred, yet to-day all the walks in the Fair were dry, and the city of Moorish palaces and waving palms looked like a bit of the Orient. Half of San Francisco seemed bent on an outing. The Governor had declared a legal holiday, and the result was a crowd which taxed all the cable roads. Visitors by tens of thousands come from Oakland and all surrounding cities, and the procession moved out to the park between solid lines of spectators. The parade was one of the best military spectacles ever seen on this coast, for all the regulars as well as militia and foreign.

Governor Markham was warmly applauded the results and an advanced and many the regulars as well as militia and foreign.

It seriously clogged some of the entrances, but good nature abounded and there were no accidents or disturbances. Many of the exhibits are not in place. Many roads and walks are in poor condition, but the exhibition is in better shape than the World's Fair was on the opening day, and a fortnight wil see every trace of litter and confusion disappear. To-night there was a big display of fireworks, which will fittingly round out a memorable day in San Francisco annals.

THE WORK OF ONLY FIVE MONTHS. The great fair in the Sunset City has been in ing and plaudits of 50,000 people, the ground was first broken. It has cost about $4,500,000, and is second in extent only to the Paris and Chicago expositions. Sixty acres of Golden Gate Park have been devoted to the Exposition. This space is covered by five main buildings, grouped about a central "Concert Valley," from the centre of which arises an electric tower 260 feet in height. This tower is covered by incandescent tamps and surrounded by searchlights which throw their beams on the fountains and banks of flowers about its base, or light up with silvery rays the cascade on Strawberry Hill toward the ocean, and bring into a halo of light the merry boating parties on the lake at its base, spanned by picturesque bridges, or show the Collseum-like observatory on the summit. The principal buildings may be described in

The five buildings around the terraced quadrangle leading to Concert Valley are but the nucleus of a great number of county and concessionaires' structures selected from a great number of applicants. Santa Barbara County has erected a handsome building, wherein are exhibited her amphibia, principally the sea lion. San Mateo brings her log cabin from Chicago. The Chinese Six Companies, of San Francisco, have an Oriental building of their own, fully 150 feet long and 90 feet wide, with a central courtyard, to be filled with rare Chinese flora. At one end there will be a Chinese theatre, and about the courtyard there are booths exemplifying the manufacture of important Chinese productions. The structure portant Chinese productions. The structure is fantastically ornamented with carved dragons, and brilliant red, yellow and blue flags flutter above tiled roofs, from which a Chinese pagoda, copied from the celebrated tower at Nankin, rises some twenty feet.

The first speaker to-day, James D. Phelan, president of the day, spoke of the great enterprise in honor of which the celebration was being held and congratulated the people of San Francisco and California on what has thus far been done and what would yet be accomplished. He was followed by Bishop William F. Nichols, who offered prayer, the vast concourse of people remaining in respectful slience until he had concluded. Then came a grand chorus of "America" rendered by three hundred voices, the great audience joining in singing.

GOV. MARKHAM WELCOMES THE PEOPLE. After the mighty refrain of the National anthem had died away, Governor Markham came said among other things:

said among other things:

California was the first State in the Union to make an appropriation for the great World's Fair, and her generosity was exceeded by only one State—that of Illinois. Her promptness and enterprise were used as a potent argument by every promoter of that Fair to induce other States and foreign countries to come forward and help the work along. Many Californians who visited the Columbian Exposition were forcibly impressed with the fact that it was utterly impossible to transplant California to Chicago; and while our building and contents and our various exhibits in many departments excited admiration and congratulations, Californians knew that the real California was not there. The feature of the postession was the display of early mining days, the old stage coach in which Hank Monk, the famous pioneer whip, drove Horace Greeley out of Yosemite Valley, was filled with red-shirted miners armed to the teeth, and after them came a train of pack mules, loaded with bacon, flour and other supplies. After these came a wagon gay with the red and yellow dresses of the Mexican fandango dancers from the '49 mining camps.

DECLARING THE EXPOSITION OFEN.

After reaching the Fair the procession marched to the recreation grounds, where several thousand people were gathered on the grand stand to listen to the opening exercises. Speeches were made by James D. Phelan, president of the day; Governor Markham, Director-General M. H. De Young, after her husband had declared the Exposition open, pressed the electric button which set the big machinery going, and the Fair was opened.

It is difficult to put into words the effect produced by the novel architecture and decorations of the Fair. Perhaps the pretitest feature was furnished by the sharp contrasts of color which were lacking at Chicago, are here in keeping with the deep tropical green of palms, magnolias and orange trees and the cloudless blue of the sky. The Oriental effect is also heightened by the presence of so many pignalled Chinese and curiously dressed Japanese.

Man's Inhumanity to Himself.

The most inhuman outrages, outrages which would disgrace the savage, man perpetrates upon his own system by swallowing drastic purgatives which convulse his stomforward to welcome the people. The Governor people constantly do this under tile impression that medicaments only which are violent in their action, and particularly catharties, are of any avail. Irreparable injury to health is wrought under this mistaken idea. The laxative which most nearly approaches the beneficent action of nature is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is painless but thorough, and invigorates the intestinal canal instead of weakening and irritating it. The liver and the stomach share in the benign discipline instituted by this compre-hensive medicine, whose healthful influence is felt throughout the system. Malarious, rheumatic, kidney and

RUSSIA AND "THE JEWISH MESSENGER." A notable instance of fair play in international political discussions is furnished in the latest number of "The Jowish Messenger," of New-York. This weekly paper, which, since its foundation by the Rev. S. M. Isanes thirty-cight years ago, has the new world, while remaining a patriotic Ameri-can newspaper, has never failed to arraign Russia on account of her cruel treatment of the Hebrew inhabitants. But "The Jewish Messenger" never hesitates to render justice to whom justice is due and it is in accordance with that principle that it published the following paragraph in its issue of anuary 25:

January 25:

The dedication a few weeks ago of the St. Petersburg synagogue, which is or imposing proportions and in the most fashionable section of the city, with accommodations for 1.20 worshippers, is in strange contrast with the current impression one has of Russian conditions. The fact, too, that the ceremony was attended by a large number of State functionaries and leading Christian citizens would indicate that there is much more kinely fellowship in the Russian capital than is generally supposed. It is quite clear that the Jews of St. Petersburg can hardly be regarded as suffering persecution when so superb a temple is opened for public worship.

GOVERNOR WOLFE OPPOSES STATEHOOD. Paul's Valley, I. T., Jan. 27.-Governor Wolfe has Just issued his measure to the extra session of the Chickasaw Legislature now in session, which has just been received there and translated from the Chickasaw language, Referring to Statehood, the Governor says:

There is a great question being agitated throughout the United States, upon which depends the very existence of the five civilized tribes. The policy advocated almost universally by the press in the Territory as well as abroad is detrimental to our existence and calculated to do our nation grievous harm. This question is allotment and Statehood, and it should be strenuously opposed by each of the five tribes to the end that we may retain our tribal forms of government and the holding of our lands in common, as it is to-day.

THE VORACIOUS PRAIRIE DOG.

From The St. Louis Globe Democrat.

"The prairie dog," said Patrick Meyer, of Elreno, Okla, to the corridor man at the Southern, its apparently a very harmless little animal, but, aithough its bite is not poisonous, it can wreck more goods and chattels with its little teeth than an animal twice its size. Three or four years ago, just after the opening of the first portion of Oklahoma, the country was inhabited by tens of thousands of prairie dogs, and one source of revenue among the settlers was catching the peculiar little animals and selling them to visitors, who seldom bothered with them more than three or four hours' ride and then let them go in disguist. The prairie dog can eat its way out of almost any box that is male, and it has a fondness for leather, which seems to show its appreciation of a popular proverb. I remember one night in the early history of the Territory
